Design direction
An immersive blue-hour alpine property with a broad low serif headline, midnight curved booking dock, filled native date controls and rounded room disclosures; coherent lodge, suite and courtyard photographs carry the stay through dark atmospheric surfaces.

A voice for vestra

Vestra brings the feeling of arriving in the mountains into a calm hotel experience. A blue-hour lodge photograph opens the page, revealing warm windows, limestone walls and water beneath the peaks. Midnight blue and mist-white type keep the property in focus, while a curved arrival dock opens into filled date, room and guest controls. Guests can compare three stays, see the nightly total and prepare a clear outline. A room overlooking the pool and a sheltered courtyard carry the same architectural story below. Broad serif headings soften the dark surfaces, and the folded-ridge symbol holds the retreat within its mountain setting.
